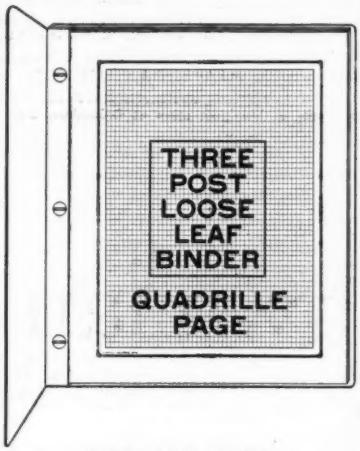
OLYMPIC POSTAGE STAMP ALBUM



DESCRIPTION

Cover—

The cover is made of a beautiful heavy antique finished art paper, a rich chestnut brown color. Will not soil readily, is artistically printed in a rich, deep red, green and gold. Finished with rounded corners.

Pages—

One hundred pages 9¼x8 inches, printed from new plates, with an artistic border surrounding a fine quadrille ground work for mounting. This quadrille work is marked with a center of page position mark as well as position marks at both sides and at top and bottom of the page for accuracy in mounting. The paper is a light weight white bond paper, light in weight so that the book will lay open when in use.

Binding Style—

Pages are held in the binder by the Chicago Screw Post method of binding—three posts. This gives a firm, yet easily interchangeable binding. Has extra expansion stubs for 3-16 inch expansion.

Royal Hawaiian Postage

The following is another very human and historical sketch of one of the rulers pictured on Hawaiian Stamps—Kamehameha III (Kauikeaouli) shown on Scott's Numbers 5, 6, 7.
The article is by Mr. George S. Raymond, Principal of Kapaa School at Kapaa, Kauai, Hawaii.

KAMEHAMEHA III was guided and directed, during his younger days, by one of his father's wives; no other than the favorite one of the elder Kamehameha—Queen Kaahumanu. Her name meant "feathered mantle" and when she was ruffled so was Hawaii. As Regent she was a leader and the female Grand Sachem of the party in power. She might be called the Mother of South Seas' Tammany Society. However, she was, like many Polynesian women, fully capable of holding her position at Court. As a dictator, from all accounts, she was the foremost politician of her time. She was assisted, may be, by Kalanimoku—"the boat to heaven," alias William Pitt whom Kamehameha the Great had made important as prime minister but more so as treasurer. He had seen service for years at court and with Kaahumanu the young king set forth with experienced pilots to steer him over rough diplomatic seas. Kalanimoku was also known as "Iron Cable." Kaahumanu never won a sobriquet but she earned a reputation as a royal housekeeper and the best political flopper of royal Hawaii. One can find accounts of her on almost all pages of history of her time. She later learned to love the missionaries and in doing so they made her front page news. She never rated a postage stamp, strange as it seems; yet we should bear in mind that issues by sets became popular only recently.

The young king apparently enjoyed his 'teens for he missed none of the pleasures. He associated with the younger set, day and night, while his foster parents, Hoapili and Kaahumanu, worried and wailed. He and his cronies strayed far from the beaten tracks of the missionaries, if, as a matter of fact, they had ever been near the tracks that lead to the good life. They indulged in strong drink. If you know what that means to primitive people you know history. He and his gang formed a secret society whose real purposes should stay secret. One Tahitian, called Kaomi, a renegade teacher of parts, was a true racketeer who all but ruined the king, court, and government.

The king was sowing his wild guavas, so to speak. He was in the college of hard drinks leading to a degree which would rank him among the great monarchs of Polynesia. He went to hell to get an education. This fact, he, himself, did not deny and the missionaries can prove.

Kaahumanu departed this life in June 1832. In the spring of 1833 a fancy came to the young Kamehameha to declare himself nearer 100% king. It was all right with his subjects although the missionaries were fearful that he would appoint an adviser to replace Kaahumanu who would be antagonistic to their efforts. Herein, he fooled the worried ones and named, Kinau, his half sister, as kihina nui or premier. She was given the title of Kaahumanu II, to recall her predecessor. Kinau was expected to fill the shoes of Kaahumanu, so to speak, although the latter may never have had shoes.

It was a wise appointment. Royal affairs calmed down. Throughout the land was peace and happiness. The efforts of the missionaries culminated in great revivals. Education became general. Kamehameha III, in 1837, took a wife, one Kalama, daughter of a low chief of high regard. The days at court were those of activity, service, and beneficial social changes. The king and queen were blessed with children who all died young. Kalama lived till October, 1870.

The reign of Kamehameha III shines as no other period in Hawaiian history. It has been recorded as an epoch. The numerouus diplomatic problems leading to recognition of Hawaii by the United States, Great Britain, and France proves the term, epoch, to be no exaggeration. During his reign the vexing land problems were settled as far as land matters can be at one time and period. At least the commoner was given a chance to own real estate and to will it to his heirs. All this was to usher in the era of the attorney with his charges, delays, and precedents.

The Great Mahele, or Land Division, is the greatest contribution to the Hawaiian people by any one ruler. That the missionaries from New England had much to do with the momentous social change does not deter from the fact that Kamehameha III, Rex, gave official sanction, to his imperial glory, in the land act. The first regularly enacted written laws of Hawaii were signed by Kamehameha III in 1827. They were the outgrowth of the "Ten Commandments" adopted by the chiefs in 1825 after missionary influence.

The first English newspaper, The Sandwich Island Gazette, was started in 1836. It had a short life owing largely to the small number of English readers. High Chiefess, Keopuolani, mother of Kamehameha III, was baptised by the Boston Missionaries in 1824 and thought to be the first native of Hawaii to enter the church. The first school opened in 1831, for men only.

A visitor in Honolulu during the year 1831, writes that "the king was a fine young man, large and gracious. His face showed sweetness and courage, good will and intelligence . . . But what atracted us the dignity and nobility of his manner. The heir persumptive of European crown, prepared by all court ceremonies for fifteen years would not have shown more grace . . . . ."

It has been said that "King John of England granted Magna Charta to his rebellious barons under the stress of armed constraint. But Kauikeaouli, when only 26 years of age, without constraint and of his own free will, proclaimed a bill of rights such as no other sovereign probably has ever accorded his people voluntarily. That bill of rights emancipated the common people from serfdom, conferred on them the privilege of owning their own lands, and of enjoying unhindered the labor of their hands."

His reign of 22 years began almost with the breaking down of the ancient taboo system and ended with the firm establishment of a constitutional government. He brought his people together on a firmer and better political foundation. He gave them their first constitution and bridged the gap between feudalism and democracy. He was handicapped at times, with petty politics, jealousies, and religious controversies; as well as the harmful effects of the vices of white sailors and traders. That he could see a vision of a better land is to his honor. That he ruled through the turmoil of grasping traders, who had quit God at Cape Horn, of religious fanatics who were intolerant and bigoted, makes him a true king. Above all he was gracious and always honest to his subjects. This proves him a majesty.

Once in a speech deploring the aggressiveness of a British naval officer in taking possession of Hawaii, Kamehameha III said that the: "The Life of the Land is Perpetuated by Righteousness," and in Hawaiian:

U A MAU KE EA O KA AINA I KA PONA, it is the Motto of Hawaii.

The islands could have been annexed during his reign by the United States. The rulers in Hawaii took action but with the death of the king on December 15, 1854 negotiations came to an end. United States annexation was not to come for nearly a half century. The King, affectionately called, Ka Moi Lokomaikai, i.e., The Benevolent or Good King, entered a new paradise. His faithful subjects knocked out front teeth and grotesquely shaved their heads, which, as a means of mourning is unintelligible to all except South Sea Island morticians.

If you possess an original, reprint, fake, or what have you, of the stamp issue of this noble king gaze upon it and see a pictuure of the best of the Kamehamehas. His father was The Great, he was The Good. Today a tablet marks his supposed birthplace, a public school and street carries his monarchical name, while a trust company building in Honolulu is, Kauikeaouli, to his memory. The postage stamps bearing his picture are about the world.

Such is a short outline of Kauikeaouli, whose name may mean "Held on the jaws of Uli" and which can be syllabicated as: "Kau-i-ke-ao-Uli." Uli being the Hawaiian god of justice, and Hawaiians who are familiar with the customs of the past, in the event of injustice or injury, may invoke the aid of Uli in these words, "Uli nana pono; Uli nana hewa," which is translated: "Uli who judges between the right and wrong." Ask Uli to help you with your Hawaiian stamps.

(Arthur Petersen)

BARBADOS—In our issue of July 16th, we stated that it was the 2p. value of the current series perf. 13½x12. This should have been the 2½p.

(A. F. Turner)

The 1p. has also been received in the foregoing perforation, and the ¼p. has appeared in a deeper shade of brown.

(Gibbons' Stamp Monthly)

BRAZIL—Quantities of the recent Zeppelin stamps follow:

3500r. on 5000r. (100,000)
7000r on 10000r. (75,000)

(Gibbons' Stamp Monthly)

CHINA—A set of particular postage stamps engraved and recess printed in large format with a picture of an encampment and camels crossing the desert, has appeared. It is apparently in connection with the Sven Hedin Expedition, judging by the wording which is "EXPED. SCIENT. SEPT. OCCID. PROVINC SINAE MCMXXVII—MCMXXXIII". The values and colors follow:

1c. orange
4c. olive
5c. lilac

GERMANY—The news that the Reichpost did not recognize the 3pf. and 4pf. stamps on cardboard, comes as a shock, however we still believe their status is such that merits catalog rank. It is true that the Central Berlin Office never sanctioned them, but they were full authorized by the Oberpostdirektion, Stuttgart, in which town about 2,000 of the 10,000 pairs were used on printed matter and registered letters.

(Gibbons' Stamp Monthly)

NEW THREE CENT COMMEMORATIVE FOR DANIEL WEBSTER

A new commemorative postage stamp honoring Daniel Webster is to be issued in August. It will be placed on sale the first day at Franklin, Hanover and Exeter, New Hampshire, August 24th.

It would seem that this stamp would honor the 150th Anniversary of the birth of this great statesman since Webster was born on January 18, 1782. The issue of the stamp is a bit late in the year, nevertheless a fitting tribute to the man.

It is nothing new for Webster to appear on one of the postage stamps of the United States, altho this will be the first commemorative to bear his picture.

Webster first appeared on a United States Stamp in 1870. Here we find him on the 15c orange, in 1890 on the 10c green, which position he held on the 1894-5 issue, the 1898-9 issue and the 1902 issue and since that date he has been missing on our postage stamps.

This stamp will also be the second single 3c Commemorative stamp that has been issued by the United States, the former one being the 3c Victory Stamp. Three cent commemoratives however have appeared in sets of other values.

The official announcement from the Postoffice Department will be printed as soon as it is issued.

Linn's Weekly was fortunate in getting direct news of this new stamp from Mr. George P. Munsey of Laconia, N. H., in time to give a brief note last week. Since then we have further news from Mr. Gordon H. Davison of Manchester, N. H., and we hope to have the official announcement for publication next week.

Precancels

Information regarding new issues and notes of interest on all Precancels, other than Buro Prints, should be sent direct to the Editor of this column.

K. M. GIERHART, BALTIMORE, OHIO

Where cancellations end and precancels begin seems to stump quite a few collectors. Many killer rollers, the cancellation that has lines vertically connecting the horizontal lines, boxing in the city and state name and often called box rollers are often actually used to precancel stamps in emergencies and the like. Yet these same rollers perhaps at other times are used just to cancel with in the customary manner and when the stamp produced by the latter method are off the original cover it is impossible to tell which are the real precancels and which are not. With these facts in mind the pioneers of the precancel game decided to delete these from the catalogs. Consequently few roller precancels are listed and those that are, are the ones that never appear on ordinary cancelled mail. If a roller is first used to precancel stamps, and these are listed in the catalog and then later on this same roller is used to cancel with in the ordinary manner these first stamps generally are removed from the catalog. Likewise there is a parcel post cancel used in small towns generally large enough to cover two stamps that is sometimes used to precancel with, but these, too, must be classed as the rollers.

Albion, Mich., the first three cent Olympic Precancel shown me by an anonymous reader from Baltimore, Md.

The auction list for Lawrence Bros. Aug. 5th auction at hand and if you get a list you check with me as the best items in the general lots offered. These are my private opinions.

A 1c La. Purchase from Danbury and the $2 item from Torrington are the Conn. items. The Lincoln Memorial from Chicago is good. All the Nebr. overprints are scarce precancels. A 13c 1902 issue from Omaha is a classic. The $2 item from Endicott brightens up any collecton and some scarce old Ohio items. Across from Stockton, Calif., and Hartford, Conn. The 16c from Boston and don't pass up the 16c from Cincinnati nor the one from Portland, Ore.

Here are some eye-openers from OHIO. Try and get these if you can. Arbor Day from Tiro and Mount Gilead. Pulaski from Chatfield as well as the three cent Olympic. 3c Olympics from New Washington and Tippecanoe City. Bi-Centennials from Tiro, Tippecanoe City and the unlisted town of QUINCY. I thot Quincy, Ill., was the only Quincy in the U. S.

INTERVIEWS WITH STAMP PORTRAITS

Dear Mr. Linn:—

I went after that interview on the Burgoyne stamp, but the General proposed something else instead of an interview. He says school is out and the boys and girls have a lot of time on their hands, so he proposed a number of questions for them to answer, with prizes for correct or good answers. You can make Capt. Townsend give the prizes, as he has done before, the General says.

Here are the questions. Tell them to write answers to Capt. A. C. Townsend, 16 So. Peoria St., Chicago, and to be sure that a good answer will be rewarded.

1—Who painted the picture from which the stamp is copied?

2—Where is that picture today?

3—How many persons are shown on the stamp?

4—Who are the two principal ones?

5—Why are the four names, Fort Stanwix, Bennington, Oriskany and Saratoga, all shown on the stamp?

6—The English historian Crissy says that the battle of Saratoga ranks with Hastings and Waterloo. Why?

7—Congress adopted the Stars and Stripes as our flag in June, 1777. It was first raised at one of the places shown on this stamp. Which one?

8—What American covered himself with glory in this campaign, and then lived and died in deathless shame?

9—To whom did Burgoyne surrender, and on what date?

Yours,
HENRY.

CHINESE SUN YAT-SEN STAMPS TO BE CHANGED

The original issue of the new Sun Yat-Sen stamps was changed due to an error in the design and we now have information from Mr. Otto Wiesinger, of Vancouver, Washington, who submits information direct from the Chinese correspondent which states that the re-engraved issue now current is also wrong as to design and that the issue is to be again changed. The first two sets were printed in London and we are advised that the new issue will be made at Nanking.

In the first issue, the central design at the top, a twelve pointed star shows the twelve points surrounding a double lined circle. The re-engraved is the same except that the circles have been filled in between the two rings making a solid or heavy lined single circle from which the points of the star radiate. This design is also incorrect and the ornament or star is to be changed and may be described as follows: A circle surrounded by twelve points of a star but the points not joined together and not touching the inner central circle.

FALKOFF RETIRES FROM THE BERKSHIRE EXCHANGE

Word is at hand from Mr. S. H. Falkoff, who has been associated with Donald Dickason at Wooster, Ohio, during the past year, stating that Mr. Falkoff will no longer be associated with the Berkshire Exchange but will enter business at Wooster under his own name.

Mr. Falkoff will deal in Air Mail Stamps and Covers of the world and will offer at the same time a thorough New Issue Service of Airpost stamps.

New Daniel Webster Stamp

I am prepared to handle orders for First Day Covers for the Daniel Webster Stamp to be issued on August 24, 1932, from Franklin, New Hampshire, birthplace of this great American. Covers will be cacheted with a printed cut from a photograph of Daniel Webster, thus making a very neat and extremely beautiful cover. I guarantee all stamps used to be well centered and perforated on four sides. Early orders will be greatly appreciated. Avoid last minute rush.

EDITORIALS

THE BRITISH WANT NEW STAMPS There is much comment in recent issues of the leading British Philatelic Periodicals calling attention to the poor quality of British Postage Stamps in comparison with many other countries of the world. The trend in European stamp issues, among those countries which require large quantities of stamps has been toward the typographic method of production. This method is about the most simple and least expensive, yet satisfactory method of printing postage stamps, but it lacks much in beauty that goes with other methods of printing.

The Philatelic Journal of Great Britain inquires if modern research should not be able to find a way of reducing the cost of the superior processes of printing stamps.

For many years British Cancellation stamps made in America have urged the British Public to buy British Made Goods. Since the Government has got away with this slogan so well, would it not be a good idea to have the British Postoffice Department to look into the present rotary engraving style of printing that has made large production of attractive stamps possible in this country.

Suggestions are also appearing in British Journals, encouraging the issue of something in the nature of special issues or commemorative stamps for Britain. Probably no country in the world has a more clean record in this respect than has Great Britain.

Its British Empire Exhibition Issue and the Postal Union Congress Issue being its sole offenses and we feel certain that collectors in Great Britain would be glad to see something more along this line, so long as the values are kept at a low figure. Commemorative stamps have undoubtedly been one of the greatest advertisements for Philately in this country that could be asked for and while some may object to special issues, when they are issued in sufficient quantity, they can do more good than harm for our hobby.

THE NEW GIBBONS' CATALOG The 1933 edition of the Stanley Gibbons' Catalogue of Postage Stamps of the World is announced for September 1st. It is stated that this next edition will show about 25,000 price changes. Many of these due to Britain's departure from the Gold standard, and others based on the continued rise in value of certain stamps. Many stamps heretofore unpriced are also quoted.

The main feature of this year's revision is an entirely new list of the stamps of Mexico, but in both sections there has been a large amount of detail revision. The book this year will carry about 40 more pages than the last edition.

American collectors who want a copy of this remarkable catalogue will have to place their order with their bootlegger and we are unable to state what the bootleg price on this catalogue will be.

Our United States Treasury Department forbids the importation of this catalogue into the United States because it carries pictures of postage stamps which are not defaced with a white line through them as in the Scott Catalog. The Treasury Department is fearful that collectors would buy the catalogue and cut out the stamps and use them on letters and thus defraud the country out of a lot of Jack.

OLD TIME COLLECTORS WILL REmember the name of Herman B. Seagrave of Pontiac and now Detroit, Michigan. It is with sincere regret that we chronicle the death of his wife, Mrs. Mary A. Seagrave who died July 14, from a cerebral hemorrhage. H. B. Seagrave is among the few remaining of the old school of Philately and his friends will mourn with him in the loss of his life companion.

A CARD FROM ITALY WAS THE first news we had that an old friend of many Garfield-Perry Annual meetings was abroad in Italy. The card is from Mr. A. Garibotti who is doubtless taking advantage of the current market and adding many nice stamps to his collection of Papal States.

ABOUT THE COOLEST THING that has come our way in the past week of excessively hot weather is a cover from Arthur A. Gilbert, D. D.S., of Chicago. The cover is cancelled at "ICE", Ky.

C. C. WEBER, CLEVELAND, OHIO
5008 Bridge Avenue

Hoover Bros. announce their 65th sale as of August 5th. An entire section will be devoted to buros and many copies offered will be known as those with white space all around. In other words fine centered items, a fine chance to replace poor copies in your collection at your own price. The balance of the collection will be offered as a job lot.

The Precancel Clearing House of 128 Market St., Newark, N. J., has about completed their plans for an unusual buro exchange proposition. Details are yours for the asking.

Every now and then when a buro oddity is reported along the lines of missing periods we get the well known Bronx salutation. Well, here goes. Look over your Detroit old type compounds specially stamp No. 1 on the upper left pane. So far we have the 1½ and two copies of the 6 center, but alas it must be a plate break as the right side of the "H" appears scraped.

Providence old type coils turn up with some interesting top line breaks, but to date we have turned up but one letter break on the coil varieties and that is a broken "V".

Recently we had the privilege of going over a lot of many thousand buros and found once again the real fine copies averages less than 5% of the whole. The plate break varieties were less than 1/10 of 1%. All this would indicate that fine copies are worth catalog or more and copies other than fine should be plenty plentiful but not at catalog prices.

MEMBERS OF THE PRECANCEL STAMP SOCIETY

The Publisher of Linn's Weekly Stamp News had the pleasure of receiving the news that Linn's Weekly had been nominated as Official Organ for your society by reading the statement in the Precancel News copy that is supplied for publication by Mr. Gierhart.

This was the first news we had that our paper had been honored by your society in this manner.

The object of this notice is to express our appreciation to those who are responsible for the honor bestowed upon us and to at the same time state that we must decline to accept the Official Organship of the P. S. S. even if elected.

We hope that this notice will reach a large number of the members in order that they may not waste their vote by casting it in favor of our publication.

Our personal recommendation to the society and to all members of the Society is that they get solidly behind Mr. Gloeb and his Precancel Bee and work with him in a business like manner.

Mr. Gloeb has given much to your society, he has shown his willingness to do and work with you and he has given you the best precancel paper that has ever served your society.

If your society can not support a paper such as Mr. Gloeb has provided then it is time that something be done to learn what is wrong.

Air Mail to Venezuela

Arrangements have been made for the dispatch of United States Air Mail for Venezuela by the domestic air mail service of that country, the principal places served thereby being Coro, Maracay, Ciudad Bolivar, Guasipati and Tumeremo. The rate for transportation over the U. S. and Venezuelan air services is 45 cents per half ounce or fraction, while our foreign rate of 30 cents per half ounce over U. S. route to Maracaibo, La Guaira and Maturin, will continue as heretofore. We do not expect there will be any first day covers of this service.

Air Mail Convention

The Cleveland Air Mail Society's plans for the American Air Mail Convention and Exhibition are going forward with vigor. The Exhibition will no doubt be the greatest collection of covers ever gotten together in the world, while the Convention itself, the Auction, Banquet and other features will provide plenty of thrills for such collectors. Saturday has been designated as A. A. M. S. Day at the National Air Races, a fine block of seats at special reduced prices has been reserved for us. Some one wondered why the society's convention was being held in Cleveland, we wonder why the Air Races are held there every year. But boys, there's a good reason, and if you collectors all arrange to be at the Hollenden Hotel, on Sept. 1, 2 and 3, you will know all of those reasons.

Thanks, Co-Operators

Our recent remarks concerning collectors treatment of the co-operators, who have given their time and services, in the past to help us get many fine air mail covers, has brought me kind letters from many of them, giving their experiences, all of which are much the same, and no doubt these fault-finding letters from collectors are the cause of many publications refusing to give further publicity where the covers are to be cared for by our very good friends. We collectors must all cease writing fault-finding letters to co-operators; they are not to blame if an event is postponed, or if it is never held; they are not trying to steal your postage stamps on the covers, rather they have paid out many dollars of their own money for your postage due sendings to them; if you want your covers back write them courteously and send the necessary postage with which to send them.

F. A. M. No. 7

Effective August 1st, bi-weekly, Monday and Friday, will be resumed from Miami, Florida, to Nassau, Bahama Islands. Rates now 8c for first ounce and 13c each additional.

Ho-Ho-Kus, N. J.

August 3, 1912, a special flight carrying 1662 pieces of mail, was made from the Race Track at Ho-Ho-Kus to the Y. M. C. A. field at Ridgewood, N. J., a distance of about two miles; this was an official flight known as Route No. 609002, and all the mail bore a special cancellation, and these covers are now among the Pioneers. The Chamber of Commerce at Ho-Ho-Kus, N. J., are sponsoring a cachet for Aug. 3rd, commemorating the 20th Anniversary of that flight, and covers may be sent to them, or to the Postmaster of that city.

Saxonburg, Pa., is celebrating its 100th Anniversary from July 31 to Aug. 9th and a cachet has been provided. Covers may be sent to John E. Muder who is the postmaster at that place.

Providence, Rhode Island, will be embraced for Air Mail service on Route No. 1, on Saturday, August Sixth. A special official cachet will be provided for use by the Postmaster on air mail dispatched that day. Send your covers 8c postage ready to go to the Postmaster.

SEVENTEEN THREE CENT COVERS

Miss Florence Graves, a Clerk in the office of the California Commissioner of Corporations at Los Angeles, has made a very unique collection, consisting of stamps and combinations of stamps used to frank letters on July 6th, the day the new three cent rate went into effect.

She has preserved these with such part of the original covers as was necessary to show the postmark.

Altogether, she secured 17 items, and this was done without premeditation. There are the four current three cent stamps, i. e., Lincoln, Washington Commemorative, Olympiad and the new Washington. Combinations of various ½, 1, 1½ and 2 cent stamps.

It looked like she would have 16 items when a letter mailed in Nebraska and delayed in the mails was received, franked by an Arbor Day stamp and a one cent Washington Commemorative. This she considers the gem of the collection.

Miss Graves feels that this is going to be a very nice page in her album and the charm of the whole thing is that the idea of saving these stamps did not occur until after the first day of the new postage rate and there was no combination prepared in order to make additional exhibits.

PLATE BREAK IN NEW THREE CENT STAMP

Mr. C. S. Johnston of Sioux City, Iowa, submits a block of four of the new 3c Washington stamp which shows a break in the oval surrounding the left figure 3. The break is about ½ mm and occurs directly behind the figure 3. Position is lower left pane from plate 20879 on the 82nd stamp.

The break if such it is, is so small that we would be glad to hear from others who may have this plate number block, to learn if this break is constant. In instances such as this one, it sometimes happens that what appears to be a plate break may have been caused by some particle being on the plate and that it only looks like a defective plate.

BIG TIME PROMISED AT WARREN, OHIO, U. S. A. MEET

B. R. McIntyre, who is spending a lot of his time boosting the Convention and Exhibition of the Universal Stamp Association that is to be held at Warren, Ohio, August 22, 23, 24, again calls attention to the fact that this big meeting is planned for all stamp collectors. The exhibition and other festivities are open to all collectors whether members of the U. S. A. or otherwise.

The Banquet, which will be the big event at the Hotel Warner, is to be presided over by Mac as Toastmaster and we are sure that if we told our readers all that Mac has promised for this occasion that there would be many who would make an effort to be in attendance.

Some extraordinary cacheted covers advertising the meeting have reached our office, water color work of Brother McIntyre and some of them are beauties.

Lloyd L. Kessler, P. O. Box 134, Warren, Ohio, is Chairman of the Exhibition Committee to whom all inquiries about the exhibition should be addressed.

Tickets for the Banquet are $1.25 each and reservations should be sent to B. R. McIntyre, 143 Main Ave., S. W., Warren, Ohio.

At the exhibition, there will be seven different classes and suitable prizes will be awarded in each class. It is announced that exhibits are to be insured by a Bonding Company. Arrangements are being made for dealers who wish tables at the convention.

NEW ALBUM SUGGESTION

A subscriber suggests a solution to the question we had in a recent Editorial—"What has become of the General Collector". Subscriber says the answer is—"Lack of a suitable printed album. The general collector in the U. S. A. is limited to two albums, The International (3 vols.) or the International Junior, neither of which meet his requirements. For example the three volume edition divides his countries into three seperate parts, contains watermark and various other varieties in which he is not interested and lastly, places for rarities he can never hope to obtain.

As for the Junior volume following an article by a Mr. Levey in the weekly some time ago, I went to the Scott Stamp & Coin Company and bought a Junior Album and two thousand assorted stamps which as usual in such packages contained mostly Europe. After hinging what I had spaces for in my Junior I had over 400 of the 2000 different still on my hands with no place to put them, all cheap varieties, but still good stamps, and that is true of most of the countries such as Norway, Sweden, Finland, Denmark, etc. The stamps are catalogued low, yet there is very little space devoted to these popular countries. Now for the remedy, an album like the Junior in size, preferably loose leaf to contain spaces for 20 to 25 thousand stamps, leaving out with the exception of U. S., all postage due, watermark varieties, officials, parcel post, newspaper stamps, etc., and giving the space now occupied to straight postal issues.

I think such an album in conjunction with the present newspaper publicity our hobby is receiving would do much to revive interest in general collecting."

The club is arranging for a philatelic exhibition to be held in September, for the purpose of interesting the general public in stamp collecting and bringing to life some of the present collectors who are inactive. Collectors and dealers wishing to make exhibits should communicate with the secretary, G. J. Luhn, Metropole Hotel, St. Joseph, Mo.

MID-SUMMER GET-TOGETHER

All collectors of POSTAL MARKINGS, whether members of the unit or not, are invited to attend a mid-summer "get-together" of the organization at the Collectors Club Rooms, 30 East 42nd Street, New York City, August 17th, 18th and 19th. An informal "bourse" will be held each day at 2:00 P. M.,—the group will dine together at Rutleys Restaurant, basement room, Broadway, 41st Street, each evening at 6:30. Cost of meal—$1.25.

The 17th will be set aside for collectors who have 20th century leanings,—such as Naval Post-Marks, Meters, Machine Cancellations, and Precancels, including Bureau Prints. The gathering this day is apt to be a different group from those of the last two days. Messrs. Stieger, Piser, Brown, Hoover, Southgate and Rotnem will give short dissertations in their pet fields at the 6:30 dinner.

Messrs. Norana, Auerbach, Konwiser and Rotnem are in charge of the ceremonies for the 18th and 19th, the 18th and 19th century group:

The famous collection of L. B. Mason, N. Y. Carriers, will be shown at the 6:30 dinner on the 17th and will be followed by a seminar on New York City cancellations. Collections of Messrs. Chambers, Knapp, Konwiser, Norana, Mason, etc. are slated for review. Dr. Chambers will be in the chair for this seminar which will cover the period 1775-1875.

On the 18th, the dinner meeting will hearken unto Mr. Norana who will elaborate his plans for Encyclopedia of Postmarks—with probable illustrations of his method from Baltimore and New Orleans covers. Following the dinner one of Mr. Eaton's popular "catch as catch can" auctions will provide entertainment.

Collectors Club frames use open for exhibitions of POSTAL MARKINGS for this period.
